A Storm at Sea

Increases the discomfort of the voyager. But even when the weather is not tempestuous he is liable to sea sickness. They who traverse the "gigantic wetness" should be provided with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which quiets disordered stomachs with gratifying speed and certainty. To the hurtful influence of a tropic, malarious or to rigorous or damp climate, as well as to the baneful effects of unwholesome diet and bad water, it is a reliable antidote. Commercial travelers by sea or land, mariners, miners, western pioneers, and all who have to encounter vicissitudes of climate and temperature, concur in pronouncing it the best safeguard. It prevents rheumatism and pulmonary attacks in consequence of damp and cold, and it is an efficient defense against all forms of malaria. It can be depended upon in dyspepsia, liver and kidney trouble.

County Items.

A Coroner's Jury has rendered a verdict of suicide in the case of Dick Varnard who stabbed himself to death on Friday of last week on the coast near Bodega.

W. H. Dobyns, a member of the Republican County Central Committee, has been reappointed Gauger for the Fourth Internal Revenue District by Waverly Stairley, the Democratic Collector. Evidently Mr. Stairley does not believe in that good old Democratic doctrine "to the victors belong the spoils."

The remains of Richard Bauman, a young man who wandered during a fit of temporary insanity away from the Lane ranch, near Santa Rosa, several weeks ago were discovered on the Austin ranch, about four miles from that city, last Sunday afternoon. The man had been dead for some time. He had evidently died from exhaustion and exposure.

A railroad accident occurred at the crossing of the Donahue railway near the depot in Santa Rosa on Saturday evening last which resulted in the killing of two horses and the demolition of a large farm wagon. A man named Brown attempted to cross the track at that point with a four-horse wagon when he was run down by the Sebastopol train. The driver saved his life by jumping before the train struck the team. No fault is attached to the railway employees, as the accident was caused by the carelessness of the driver.

The jury in the case of Dennis McCarthy, charged with the murder of Geo. Fox, which has been on trial in Santa Rosa the past week, after being out eighteen hours brought in a verdict last Thursday of murder in the first degree without a recommendation, and if the convicted man does not get a new trial he will be hanged. McCarthy shot and killed Fox on June 25th without any provocation other than that of petty jealousy. Fox and McCarthy were both in the employ of Samuel Crooks, living near Bellevue. McCarthy was discharged and seemed to cherish a grudge against young Fox and he purchased a pistol in Santa Rosa and returning to the ranch shot Fox on sight. The wound which he received caused his death about four weeks after the shooting.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

PUNCTURED HIS NOSE.

A Young Man Injures His Nasal Organ and Nearly Bleeds to Death.

On Wednesday morning last Walter McKibbin, a young man who resides near this place, while engaged in chopping up some old lumber into kindling wood, met with a very peculiar, painful and dangerous accident. He had placed a piece of the wood, in which was a sharp nail, on the chopping block and upon striking it with his axe the piece of wood with the nail in it flew up and struck him in the face.

The nail made a deep puncture on the bridge of the nose and caused a profuse flow of blood. All efforts to stop the hemorrhage failed and the injured man was brought to town for surgical treatment.

Dr. Walliser dressed the wound and attempted to stanch the flow of blood, which he partially succeeded in doing with difficulty, and if another hemorrhage does not set in he will be all right in a few days.

Young McKibbin's case is almost identical to that of Otto Gaetjen, a former clerk in the Union Hotel in this place, who a few years ago was struck on the bridge of the nose in a bar-room brawl and nearly bled to death, the hemorrhage continuing night and day for several weeks.

THE COLLEGE BUILDING.

An Election to be Held to Decide Whether it Shall be Purchased for a High School.

At a meeting of the High School Board of Trustees held last Saturday afternoon, it was decided to call an election on Saturday, December 7th, at which will be submitted to the voters a proposition to buy the old college building for High School purposes at a cost not to exceed $2100.

Of course a majority of the Board do not favor the scheme, but they want the people to have their say in the matter.

If the proposition is voted down, which it surely will be, the scheme to foist the old concern on the taxpayers will receive a quietus for all time to come.

As the building has been going a-begging for the past six or seven years, and was offered to District School Trustee Frank Campbell for that sum several years ago it seems sheer folly to expect the taxpayers to agree to give $2100 for a piece of property that can or ought to be purchased for the lesser sum, as that is all the owner has been asking for the property right along until very recently. But even then $1500 would be a high price to pay for the building, which is in a dilapidated condition and would cost as much again to put it in proper repair. In other words for school purposes the edifice would prove a veritable white elephant on the hands of the taxpayers in its tumble-down condition.

FIVE-MILE RACE.

Frank Burris Wins—Time 16:39.

The five-mile bicycle race over the Sonoma track between Frank Burris and Eugene Donaldson, last Sunday afternoon, attracted a large number of people to town.

About 2 o'clock the riders got an even start. Burris, however took the lead and kept it on the first lap. Donaldson then forged ahead and held it the second lap and so it went for four miles—first one being ahead and then the other. Finally on the last mile Burris got the lead and kept it to a finish, beating his opponent about fifty yards.

Considering Burris is a professional rider and rode a 20-pound wheel, Donaldson, who is an amateur, did remarkably well on his 29-pound "bike."

Twenty-One Dollars per Ton.

An agent for a well-known commission house has been in the valley this week offering $21 per ton for Zinfandel wine grapes. He secured one lot of fifty tons from a grower who had not yet disposed of his crop, but for the most part red wine grapes throughout this valley had already been disposed of at from $12 to $16 per ton. Those that sold for the lesser figures are now kicking themselves because they did not hold off a little longer before contracting to sell. It is thought that the second crop will bring about $15, although no offer has yet been made for late grapes.

THAT CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE AND SONOMA CREEK.

Sonoma Valley's Only Navigable Stream Badly in Need of an Appropriation.

A Congressional delegation composed of Senators White and Perkins, Congressmen Barham and Hilborn and Lieut. Potter of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A., are now engaged in inspecting the navigable streams of California with a view to recommending an appropriation by Congress for improving the same. Lately Petaluma and Napa creeks and other waterways in various parts of the State have been inspected by the distinguished gentlemen, and no doubt many if not all of them will receive aid from the government for the purpose of widening and deepening their channels.

One of the most important navigable streams in Sonoma county, which by the way is Congressman Barham's home, has so far been overlooked by the delegation. We refer to Sonoma creek. This stream has shoaled to a fearful extent the past twenty-five years, owing to neglect on the part of the government, which has yet to appropriate one cent toward keeping it open to navigation, although Petaluma and Napa creeks have from time to time been favored with Government aid. If Sonoma Creek is much longer neglected it will in a few more years be closed to navigation. At the present time light draught schooners and other sailing craft are enabled to navigate with difficulty to a point a mile or two below Green's landing, at Embarcadero, but notwithstanding that fact most of the fruit, and products of Sonoma Valley have found their way to San Francisco this season by the schooner service of Sonoma Creek.

The preservation of this stream for navigation purposes is fraught with much importance to the future welfare and prosperity of one of the richest and most prolific valleys of California, and is surely deserving of some consideration at the hands of Congressman Barham and his colleagues, who are not wholly to blame in giving it the go-by during their recent tour of inspection up this way.

The fault, in a measure, lies with our own people, who have neglected to call the attention of the Congressional delegation to the needs of their only navigable stream. But it is not yet too late to remedy the oversight. We would suggest that the farmers of Sonoma Valley come together and appoint a committee to wait upon the visiting Senators and Congressmen and invite them to inspect Sonoma Creek and urge upon them the necessity of Government aid to the end that Sonoma Valley's only navigable stream be preserved for present and future use.

If this is done it will be an entering wedge toward securing for Sonoma Creek a small share at least of the millions of dollars appropriated at each session of Congress for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. Our people should recollect the old adage, "God helps those that help themselves." They should be up and doing in this matter.

MIGRATING ROCK CRYSTALS.

It has long been assumed that of two gemstone rocks in contact that containing crystals peculiar to the other was necessarily younger than the latter. Oolite, however, shows that crystals may be floated away into a pre-existing rock of a higher degree which has intruded on it. At Gladstone, Port, County Down, Ireland, a dike or curite is flanked on both sides by dikes of basaltic andesite, of which the andesites are unquestionably the older rocks, since the curite on its contact with them incloses fragments from their sides. The curite contains porphyritic crystals of pink orthoclase, while the andesite is normally devoid of them. Near its contact with the former rock, however, crystals exactly like those in the curite are occasionally found in the andesite. Crystals of quartz and feldspar have also often been floated from the curite into the detached fragments of the andesite. The invading rock has melted the ground mass of the andesite and has left its larger crystals scattered through a matrix made up largely of molten andesite intermingled with some curite substance.—American Naturalist.

Two Lovely Doodles.

Some years ago I was out riding, accompanied by my two dogs—an Irish setter and a bull terrier. I had a fall and broke my thigh. The distress of the dogs was touching to see. They ran to and fro, barking and howling, apparently to attract attention. When assistance came, I was carried home on a hurdle, the two dogs trotting one on either side of it, and when the bearers put the burden down to rest they jumped on to it, licking my face and hands. For several days the spaniel lay for hours in the carriage drive, apparently waiting for his master.

One morning, when the postman delivered the letters, the servant gave the dog my newspaper, and with, "Bring it along, Paddy," he carried it up stairs into my room. His joy at seeing me was worth beholding, and from that day he regularly met the postman, carried the newspaper off and laid it on my bed. He was scarcely ever after absent from the room or the passage leading to it.—London Spectator.

A TIT AT THE CLUB.

There was a little tit at the club. The millionaire had tackled the artist, and the sparks flew. He had tried to be lordly and patronizing, and the artist had objected.

"Don't patronize me," he said.

"Why not?" asked the millionaire.

"You're only a painter anyway."

"It requires brains to be an artist," replied the painter.

"Of course, of course," returned the millionaire in an offhand way. "I admit it requires brains, and you have to sell them to live."

"But money is your god. You have no other," retorted the painter.

"It's yours, also," said the millionaire.

"You sell your brains for it when you take my cash for your pictures."

"Well," replied the painter, "if I give you brains for cash, it's an even thing, anyway, for each gets what he needs most."—Chicago Post.

Coaching a Beginner.

A fellow selling magnolias and other flowers in a sleepy manner at the hotel was jeered at by a young guest, who told him to expand his lungs and cry his wares so that people would notice him. The countryman looked at the boy in a dazed sort of manner and modestly held his tongue. He was apparently afraid either to cry his wares or talk back. Several other boys gazed him and expanded how the flowers should be sold. One of them took the countryman's basket and ran down the veranda shouting "Fresh magnolias!" and in a little while sold all of the flowers and handed the countryman the money. He took off his hat, bowed and shuffled away. As he reached his cart he said to his wife: "That's a smart little fellow. He must 'a' come from Pocomoke."—Ocean City Letter.

KIDNEY.

R. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney trouble for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. Have to get up only three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe me it will cure me.
